

PREDICTED COSTS OF THE FUTURE

NEWLY INSURED UNDER THE AFFORDABLE CARE ACT (ACA)

Research sponsored by the Society of Actuaries (SOA) predicts ACA-driven changes in individual market composition of the individual health care market could drive up underlying claims costs by an average of 32 percent nationally by 2017. The research also predicts high variability among states, with as many as 43 states experiencing a double-digit claims cost increase. The data below assumes all states expand Medicaid coverage.
